

Mayer, Ann Elizabeth is an Associate Professor of Legal Studies and Business Ethics at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. She earned a PhD in History from the University of Michigan, a Certificate in Islamic and Comparative Law from the School of Oriental and African Studies at the University of London, and a Juris Doctor from the University of Pennsylvania. Her research areas include Islamic law in contemporary Middle Eastern and North African countries and international human rights law, with an emphasis on women's international human rights. She has published extensively in journals and edited collections, and the fifth edition of her book Islam and Human Rights appeared in 2012. She has conducted research on legal developments in countries ranging from Morocco to Pakistan.