Applications are invited for a

Postdoctoral Position

at the Wolfgang Pauli Institute (WPI) (c/o Faculty of Mathematics, University of Vienna) in the group “Variational Methods and Applications” led by Paolo Piovano. Applications from candidates in the areas of calculus of variations, PDEs, and discrete models are especially welcomed. The position is funded through the project “MAMBOing” in the framework of the FWF 1000 Ideas Program.

The successful candidate will be employed as soon as possible for an initial term of one year, which can be extended to two. The salary is between 48K and 55K €, depending on experience. Smart working is supported as the position comes with no constraint for the job location and no teaching/administrative duties (regular presence in Vienna and/or Milano can be considered).

To apply please send to paolo.piovano@univie.ac.at a CV, a brief statement describing the research interests, and possibly the name (with contact details) of referees supporting the application.

The application due date is July 31st, 2021. However, please consider that applications will be reviewed continuously till the position is filled. Interviews may be conducted online.

The research group on “Variational Methods and Applications” values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity. We strive for increasing the number of women and therefore we strongly encourage female researchers to apply.
